

Trane SF 900 Series Replacement Flame Sensors

Start to Finish and everything in between - at exactly the right price.

SF Universal Flame Sensor Features

- 🇺🇸 Made in the USA
- » CSA Rated
- » Tested to meet Trane's Quality Standards
- » Full line up of SF Flame Sensors covers over 90% of residential furnaces
- » High-quality Alumina ceramic insulator
- » Male spade terminal connection allows easy connection to existing wire harness without replacing the entire assembly.
- » 250° F temperature rated lead wires with Teflon coated insulation
- » Zinc plated or stainless steel mounting brackets to improve corrosion resistance

SF Universal Flame Sensor Replacement Kit Features

- » Universal flame sensor kit with a corrosion resistant mounting bracket to fit a variety of popular residential furnaces
- » 250° F temperature rated lead wires with Teflon coated insulation
- » ¼ inch male spade terminal connection allows easy connection to many wire harnesses without replacing the entire assembly.

The 900 Series Flame Sensors are used with Direct Spark Ignition (DSI) and Hot Surface Ignition (HSI) systems. SF Flame Sensors are an ideal and economical truck stop option and can provide you options when working on competitive equipment.